him shows what a seductive influence there is in money. His bar'l can make up for all he lacks in point of vitality.

Colonel William C. Goodloe, of Kentucky, is a remarkable man, being very much unlike the average politician. He was recommended the other day for appointment to the vacant revenue collectorship in Kentucky, declined the office for the reason that he was expected to restore harmony to the Republican party, not only in his district but throughout the state.

Here is a sad commentary on West Point, from the Evening Wisconsin: "The popular idea that the highest type of manliness and unbending morality is to be found among officers of the regular army, must be a delusion. Between March 1, 1877, and January 1, 1881, thirty officers were convicted on various charges and sentenced to dismissal from the army. But all the sentences were set aside or commuted. Of the thirty offenders "some were convicted of issuing false youchers, others of drunkenness on duty, cruelty to enlisted men, selling pay accounts twice over, personal assults, and of conduct unbecoming gentlemen."

It is likely that the "boys" will have to run the government during the remainder of the summer. Attorney General Brewster expects to spend the rest of July and August at Newport. Secretary Frelinghnyseu will spend August at Newport. Secretary Lincoln will spend August in the Yellowstone country with the president. Secretary Folger intends to be at his home in New York. Postmaster General Gresham will be absent from Washington in August. Secretary Teller has planned to spend August in Colorado. Mr. Chandler will not spend much time in Washington the next month

The "old ticket" will be through a good deal of humor in the campaign next year; and it will give the republicans a certainty of success. There are very few men in the democratic party who are counted leaders, who have any special love for Tilden. But to the democratic party he is like the Old Man of the Lea, and will not down, and the only way is to take him, ciphers, Hendricks, feeble health, bar'l and all. There are a great many democrats who would like to see Tilden nominated. They have a grudge against him and it will afford them infinite pleasure to see him go down in defeat once more. There are others who are stirring up the "old ticket" boom, who care nothing particularly about the old man's health, but they feel glad that his bar'l is sound and in good con-

President Arthur talks of visiting Chicago this summer. He hasn't seen the town since he made his trip to Janesville in 1857 when he came l pecting tour. He wanted to find some place in which to open a law office, but did not find a town to suit. Janesville was a little too small and then already over-stocked with young lawyers, and he didn't like the looks of things in Chicago, and feeling discouraged he returned to New York, and now see what he has come to. But he is not to blame. He never sought the presidency and did not want to be mixed up with the ticket in 1880, but they pushed him forward, and in spite of what Ingersoll says, Mr. Arthur is doing spiedidly, and is one of the most accomplished gentlemen, as well as one of the truest men that ever occupied the white house.

Mr. Stephen W. Dorsey, the star route thief, has at last made public the story concerning the campaign of 1880 in which he charges the late president Garfield with perfidy and treachery, and bargaining with Jay Gould and a New York syndicate to carry that state for the republicaus. There is nothing new in the alloged "bomb." It contains charges that were told and retold many times by democrats until they have lost interest, no one believing that there was a word of truth in them. Dorsey has been long promising this "remarkable expose" and quite naturally he went to a democratic paper with it. It will be noticed that none of the promised memoranda that Dorsey made while at his visit to Mentor, during the campaign of 'SO, are given. He seems to be particularly careful to keep these from the public, and in the language of the Chicago Journal, "the entire fabrication rests upon the word of Dorsey, unsubstantiated by a line of written testimony pertinent to the charge which he has made and the issue as raised."

The course Dorsey has taken stamps bim as an unprincipaled wretch. His villianies make him detested by all honorable men. His motive in taking to a democratic sheet his charges against a dead president, especially when the charges are false, will be despised by every man who has any sort of regard for common decency. But Dorsey has no respect for honor and places - no value or integrity in truth. When he stole several thousand dollars from the government through the star route conspiracy, he evidently wanted the republican party to shield him in his crime, and because the party would not do that thing, and because the government insisted that Dorsey should be punished, be turns around like a serpent and attempts to sting the party that has given him all the political honors they

The candidacy of Mr. Tilden, and the rever enjoyed. This is what Stephen W ease with which the democrats accept Dorsey is doing, and the sentiment of the country will condemn him.

A DAY'S CRIME.

Troy, New York, Has a Boom in Criminalities -- Bad Record

Trov. N. Y., June 17.—Residents of this vicinity are becoming alarmed at the frequency and boldness of crimes against persons and property. At Island park, a race course between Troy and Albany, an unknown man was killed by two revolver shots, fired at him from behind by an assailant of whom no trace has been discovered. The murdered man's pockets were turned inside out and emptied. He was about 60 years of age, apparently a respectable mechanic, and, supposed, wandered from Pleasure island, an excursion resort. Two knives and a seven-shooter with every chamber full were found beside the body. The location of the wounds, either of which was sufficient to have caused death, forbids any suspicion of

A WIDOW ASSAULTED.

A felonious assault was committed upon Catherine Teal, a widow 70 years of age, living in a hamlet called Orrsville, near this city. She was awakened by a man standing over her with a knife in his hand, and threatening to kill her if she made an outery. The woman, in her efforts to thwart the fiend's purpose, was dreadfully injured. In the strife to free herself, both of her hands were shockingly lacorated by the knife. Her left eye is shut and her face is scratched and cut in several places from the blows of her assail ant. After accomplishing his purpose the flend left with a warning to the woman that if she attempted to leave the house be would take her life. An accomplice was outside in a wagon, and in a few minutes the two returned and searched the house, evidently expecting to obtain money. The old woman lives alone, and is reputed to be a misor.

AFTER MONEY. A couple of hours afterward Patick Mc-Groth, who lives in Green street, was roused from his slumbor by two masked men standing over him with revolvers in their hands. They demanded his money. He refused to honor their summary draft. They proceeded to search his garments, when he jumped out of bed and engaged them in a tussle. He also called for help, when a woman in the next house appeared, and the masked men fled. ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

It is believed that these are the same men who afterward appeared at the store of Vermilyoa & Co., in Waterford, arousing a clerk who was sleeping there and demanding money or the penalty of having his head blown off. The clerk made an outery and the men took to their heels, firing at him as they ran but not injuring him.

BETTER THAN THE POPE.
At the 7 o'clock mass in St. Bernard's church, Cohoes, as Father Ennis, assistent pastor came out to arrange the book for the mass, John Raiforty stopped up seized the book, wronched it from the priest's hands, and toro the cover at the same time saying: "I am greater than any priest, bishop, or cardinal. I am equal in power to the popo-There is no priest in the country good enough to say mass, and I forbid them doing The sexton of the church was called who succeeded in getting the lunatic into the vestry-room, where he was detained until a policeman arrived and took him in custody. There was no attempt at resistance or further violence, but with a handkerchief over his head in lieu of a hat, a white neektle on, and a long black dress coat, he walked se-dately through the street after the officer, with head bent, reading intently from the book. He presented a strange sight, and many thought some clergyman had been ar-rested. After arrest and while confined at the station Rafforty was very quiet, still maintaining, however, that he was ordained from on high. It is the opinion of physicians that he is hopelessly deranged.

THE NEW POSTAL NOTES.

To be Ready by Sept. 1 .- Description of Them.

New York, July 17 .- The new postal notes for the transmission of small sums of money are now being prepared by the Homes Lee Bank Note company, in this city. They will be ready for delivery about the first of September. The notes are in shape nearly like bank notes. They are printed in a blank form, spaces being left for the names of the post offices from which they are sent and at which they are paid. On the right hand side of each of the notes are three columus of figures, one for the dollars, containing the figures from 1 to 4, the second for the dimes from 1 to 9, and the third for the cents from 1 to 2, and the third for the cents from 1 to 0. The postmaster who sells one of these notes witl punch the figures indicating the amount for which the note will be received. For instance, if a note for $3.52 is wanted the figures 8 in the dollar column, 5 in the dimes column and 2 in the cents column will be punched out. All counterfeiting or "raising" is thus prevented. The notes may be bought of any value from one cent to $4.00. A charge of three cents will be made in addition to the face value of the note. The great advantage possessed by the postal notes over money orders is that the former are transferable, so that it will not be necessary for those who receive them to go in person for the money. They may be used in payment of goods or for other purposes, but must be presented for payment within a few months or their collection will be more difficult.

Storm Notes.

CHICAGO, July 17 .- The wires are again laden with news of disastrous storms in the northwest. Points in Wisconsin, Iowa and Illinois were sufferers, and the crops and other farm property as well as towns and villages sustained serious damages.

A hail-storm at Pekin, Ill., was speedily followed by a tornado, which crushed the roof of the Peoria depot, blew two stories from the Bemis house, leveled a brick factory and cleaned the court house square of trees The damage in the city is estimated at $50, 000, while the surrounding country suffered to twice that amount.

During a storm of Fond du Lac, a section of ninety-two feet of an electric light tower on Division street was blown over upon the Rosenberg buildings. A three hundred pound weight crashed down to the last ceiling, where it suspended itself over the head of a A cyclone swept through Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, wrecking one hundred buildings and injuring six persons. The damage is estimated at $50,000. The Cabinet's Plans.

WASHINGTON, July 17 .- Attorney-General Browster expects to spend the rest of July and August at Newport. Secretary Frelinghuysen will spend August at Newport. Secre-tary Lincoln will spend August in the Yellowstone country with the president. Secretary Folger intends to be at his home in New York. Postmaster-General Gresham will be absent from Washington in August. Secretary Teller has planned to spond August in

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

A Bursting Boiler in Glen's Falls, New York, Causes Death and Wounds

GLEN'S FALLS, N. Y., July 17 .- A loud dotonation was heard resembling the explosion of a large quantity of gunpowder, snaking buildings and breaking windows within the radius of a mile. Clouds of steam and dust were seen rising in the vicinity of the Glen's Falls Paper Mill company's Works, at South Glen's Falls. A large steam boiler exploded, and was torn from the mill and thrown 403

The following people in the mill were wounded: Christopher Yattan, fireman, thrown a distance of thirty feet; Charles Miller, Charles Gower, E. J. Dickinson, Tim-othy Buckley, Michael Buckley, Stephen Lynch, Lee Parks, Edward Sweeney, Patrick Sullivan, Charles Lee, Mrs. Nellie Sullivan. Some of the wounded it is thought are fatally injured.

Within fifteen minutes after the explosion the ruins took fire. The flames spread with great rapidity, destroying buildings wherein were stored soda ash and fuel.

The exploded boiler was one of three rotary pattern used for boiling straw, but had re-cently been used to make steam for engines. There were also two steam boilers in the room. It was supposed the boiler was strong onough. The loss is estimated at between $75,000 and $100,000. Insured for one-half. STEAMER SUNK.
MONTREAL, July 17.—Three hundred passengers on a pleasure trip between Point Claire and Beauharnais, on the St. Lawrence, had a narrow escape from being lost. They crossed over from Beauharnais in the morning to the fashionable Point Claire, and on returning in the evening the pilot on their steamer Beaubarnais missod the channel and ran her bows well up on a rect, creating great excitement and terror among the excursionists, chiefly women and children After the excitement had somewhat down the vessel was backed into deep water, which began to flow into the front hold with fearful velocity. The captain retained his coolness, and ran the steamer ashore, but as she was gradually sinking on the way, and the fires were going out from the flood of water, a regular panic prevailed, while the vessel rolled violently from side to side. She at last sunk in eight feet of water. Her regular draft was three and a half feet. Fortunately the condition of the vessel coming in was noticed on shore, when the inhabitants of the village turned out in their canoes, and with the aid of boats belonging to the steamer every soul was saved, the captain being the every som was saved, the captain being the last man to depart from his post of duty.

There is said to be no doubt that a catastrophe, like that at London a year ugo would have happened in this case but for the influence the captain had over those on board. Their escape was considered miraculous. The hoat was fortunately rebuilt last winter, or she would have foundered instantly, as she was a very old craft, formerly employed as tug for towing rafts on the river.

A WOMAN KILLED. MILWAUER, July 17.—The wife of James Hoye, an ex-estemblyman and contractor, and at present a saloon-keeper in the Third ward, was killed by a freight on the Chicago & Northwestern track, near the Chicago & Northwestern track, near the Chicago street crossing. No cope can tell how the woman goo under the whoels, but it is sur-mised within the either fell or woman got under the whoels, but it is surmised that she either fell or laid down between the rails. When found her body rested between the rails, while her hold lay across the track in such a manner that lay across the track in rear truck caught and crushed it. One of her arms was doubled under her body and broken, indicating that her shoulder must have been caught by the brake-beam of the moving car. Considerable mystery surrounds the occurrence. Buffalo, N. Y., July 17.—A meeting of he representatives of the Grand Trunk, the Wabash, and the Lackawanna railroads has been held here to make arrangements for a new through line between Chicago and New York. The new line was formed of the Lackawanna from New York to Buffalo, the Grand Trunk from Buffalo to Detroit, and the Wabash from Detroit to Auburn Junction, from which point the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio will be used to Chicago. The now line will make a strong fight for new business. It is the shortest between New York and Chicago, being but 914 miles, against 920 miles via the Pennsylvania road, which is now the shortest line. The line will run to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and other eastern points reached by the connect-

Lottery Profits.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—A Louisianian gives the following information as to the profits of the Louisiana lottery company: For fifteen years it has been a power in Louisiana politics. It has made and unmade men in congress and out of it. Its influence in the state has been so patent that no poli-tician who wishes to live politically dares oppose it. In 1877 it saved the Nicholas government from destruction by interfering at a critical moment and assisting Mr. Hayes' commistion to disband the Packard legislature. A member of the last congressional delegation made him-self objectionable to it, and he was promptly shelved. (in capital stock of the concern is now worth about five times its par value, and its dividends have been increased. Last year it divided 70 per cent. among its stock-holders. Its stock is all in the hands of a very fow persons. The largest owner is Mr. Charles T. Howard, who has 6,000 shares, their par value being $600,000. His dividend last year was $420,000, Mr. John A. Morris is the next largest owner. He has 4,000 shares, and last year he received $280,000.

A fire at Bell's packing house, at Pittsburg, extended to adjoining buildings, causing a loss of $20,000. Seven stores were burned at Monroe, La. Four grain and oil warehouses at Hull, England, valued at £100,000, fell a prey to the flames. The upsetting of a lamp caused the destruction of the buildings and machinery of the Silver Cord mine at Londville, which cost $70,000.

Seven steers standing beside a barbed-wire fence near Decatur, Ill., were killed by a stroke of lightning.

We believe that there is a large class of patent medicines whose ingredients are skillfully and conscientiously selected and compounded, and that they have been very useful in the domestic treatment of discuse. We must come to this conclusion in precisely the same way that we come to the conclusion that a man is a skillful physician—by what they accomplish, and by the testimony of those who have used them. The reputacion a patent medicine is sustained by

A similar memorial and petition was pre-sented to the Baltimore and Obio Telegraph company at Baltimore and the Rapid Telegraph company in this city. Several operators were found in the neigh borhood of the Western Union building twhen questioned concarning the strike, they shook their theads and refused to talk. One said: "No time is fixed in the complaint; but it is generally understood among the operators that the strike will begin just forty-eight hours from the time the document was presented, unless a satisfactory answer is received from the companies. The matter of a strike rests ontirely with the executive committed who will use their judgment in the matter. We are thoroughly united, and at a signal, and in spite of the millions of capital against us, the telegraph business of the country will be suspended in a moment." Other operators made similar statements with regard to the time which was to be given to the telegraph companies.

Mr. Humstone, the district superintendenof the Western Union Telegraph company, was seen by a press correspondent, and stated that the demands of the operators were very unreasonable; that the executive committee will meet to sider the memorial on Wednesday, and that it was impossible to forecast the action of the company in the matter. BOSTON.

Boston, July 17.—The brotherhood here contains 250 members, and it is claimed that all of them will leave their keys if a strike is ordered. Complaints of ill-treatment and requests for increase of salary have been constant, and yet there has been, the mon-claim, no adequate relief. It is said by members of the brotherhood that a strike will spread throughout New England, including all the cable and commercial operators, nearly all of the brokers' operators, and three-quarters of the railroad men, together with a majority of the lady operators. Supt. Roche sits in his office in the Western Union talegraph building on State street and calmly informs all interviewers that he has not heard of any dissatisfaction on the part of the operators, and that he should consider a strike a high-handed outrage. Mr. Roche also says that salaries have been "increased" instead of "lowered" in the Boston office, but one of the men said that two years ago first class operators were paid $75 per month, while to-day good operators have hard work to get PITTSBURGH. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 17 .- The telegraph operators of this city are highly clated over the manner in which their demands have the manner in which their demands have been received by the Baltimore and Ohio telegraph company and the United Frees as-sociation. A prominent member of the bretherhood said: "We expected the Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph company to accede to our demands at once, because that com-pany is the only real competitor of the Western Union, and is anxious to secure a large share of the business of the country. We also anticipate no trouble from the Western Union, but do not expect Gen. Eakert to give in until the last minute, which will be Wednesday noon. If he should not come to terms by that time every man in a Western Union of-fice will leave his desk. In this city every operator is a member of the brotherhood, operator is a member of the brotherhood, and not a man will work after Wednesday noon if our terms are not met. There can be no compromise." Thomas Hughes, secretary of the national brotherhood, refused to say whether or not there would be a strike Wednesday at noon if the demands are not conceded. He said: "If I say I don't think there will be a strike, the statement will be attributed to lack of confidence on my part. If I say there will be a strike, it may be considered a threat; therefore I prefer to make no positive statement one way or the another.

CINCINNATI. CINCINNATI, July 17 .- There are about 200 operators in this city and branch offices, of whom about 185 belong to the brotherhood. Of these the brotherhood claim not more than fifteen or twenty could be had by the Western Union to do their business, now requiring about one hundred, and this would include the officers of the company and some clorks, etc. The Western Union officers, however, claim they will be able to procure from fifty to seventy-five fair to good operators should there be a strike.

country could not and would not stand even a curtailment of telegraph facilities, and would hold the Western Union responsible if such a thing should occur. The class of business men who were probably the most intensely excited over the prospect of a strike were the board of trade firms. The more influential of the members were consulting among themselves as to the best course to take under the circumstances, and several members telegraphed the Westerr und several monitors telegraphed the western Union officials at New York that a strike should be averted at any cost.

The proposed strike of the telegraph operators, if it should develop as it has been talked. of, will have the effect to create some serious complications for the railway companies, as all trains, although they are guided by time-tables, are run by telegraph orders, and many of the operators in the railway offices are supposed to be connected with the brotherhood which has made its demand upon the officers of the Western Union. THE WESTERN UNIONIST'S ATTITUDE.

The tolegraph officials say that their companies will resist the demands that are made upon them. Under no circumstances will they concede them. There are two parts to their demands. A feature of the demands is that women shall receive equal pay far equal work. Quite lately they were very much opposed to having any women in the offices. The managers say that as a general thing a woman cannot perform as much work as a man. Sho does not stay in the business for a lifetime, and has to be excused from work a great deal more than a man, and, therefore, is not as valuable as a man.

A Western Union officer said with refer-once to the new rules complained of: "The new rule does not intend to increase the working hours of our employes, neither will it decrease their pay; and if it should hit any particular case where this was done it will be reported at once to Gen. Eckert for settlement. Every night (Sundays included) in the year, at seven hours per night, amounts to 2,555 hours, less twenty minutes for lunch each night, which leaves 2,434 hours per year. Heretofore the operators were allowed for overtime a day's pay for eight hours. Undor the new system they receive a day's pay for seven hours' work, which virtually increases the basis of pay one-eighth.

"Under the old system the operators were required to work nine and a half hours per day, and were detailed to work every third Sunday. This reduced amounts to 3,0431/2 hours per year. Under the new system he is required to work nine hours per day, which is 2,817 hours per year—a gain in favor of the operator of 236 hours in twelve months.

THE "THIRTEEN" CLUB.

Annual Meeting of Men Who Are Not Superstitious.

NEW YORK, July 17.—The nineteenth regular meeting and dinner of the "Thirteen club" was held at the Knickerbocker cottage, No. 454 Sixth avenue, in room No. 18, necording to tradition and custom. The meeting was called to order precisely at thirteen minutes Letters were read by Charles Sotheran, the scribe, from several members and friends of the club regretting their inability to attend. A statement was made that the first $13 subscribed toward the memorial to the late Peter Cooper, an honorary member, had been collected from thirteen members of the club. At thirteen minutes past 8 eachmember lighted the waxen taper placed by side of his plate and proceeded to study the menu and wine list. The menu. which was printed on a card in the shape of a coffin lid studded with thirteen nails, specified thirtoen courses. The wine list, on a pictorial representation of a tombstone, contained the names of thirteen wines.

The first tenst, to the memory of Peter Cooper, was drunk in solemn silence. Afterward, however, it was responded to by Dr. Daniel Brown, who took the opportunity to explain that Mr. Cooper was only an honorary member of the club which, since its orgenization, hid lost no full member by death.
The second toast, "May you never be drummed out," was responded to by Frank L. Stowell Judge Nehrbas and others. Then the excellent wines designated on the pictorial tomb stone began to work mildly and a convivial time ensued. With much good-natured wit levoled at popular superstitions, and au abundance of good things for the satisfaction of the inner man, the members of the "Thir teen Club" amused themselves for severa hours and did not break up until past mid

THE OHIO CAMPAIGN.

Hard Work Required to Insure Republican Success.

NEW York, July 17.—A special to The Times from Columbus, O., says: A former chairman of the Republican state executiv committee, and a very shrew'd politician by the way, upon boing asked how he regarded the outlook from a Republican standpoint, the outlook from a Republican standpoint, said: "I have been taking a calm look over the field and have endeavored to look at things as they do really exist. My conclusions are that the Republicans will carry the state in October, but it will require hard and persistent work on our part to do so. It will not do to depend too much on the apparent not do to depend too much on the apparent disaffection in the Democratic ranks, as we know too well by the experience of the past that the almighty dollar will go a good way in healing Democratic wounds, and from all I can ascertain the Democracy will have big dollars to cover over the rank and the recommendation.

dollars to cover every scar, and that means that they will not run the campaign on a parsimonious basis, but will shell out liberaly to secure the necessary harmony. Wants Communication Kept Open. WASHINGTON, July 17 .- The anxiety of the president at being absent for so long a time from telegraphic communication has been relieved by an arrangement which will furnish a daily line of military couriers from furnish a cally line of military couriers from where nor the presidential party goes to the nearest telegraph station, so that the presi-dent will be in daily communication with the executive offices, as well as he could be on a fishing excursion.

THE "OLD TICKET" IN INDIANA. Many Friends and Much Strength---

._ McDonald. NEW YORK, July 17 .- A special to The Times from Indianapolis says: There is no disguising the fact that the old ticket has many friends and much strength in Indiana. The Wabash Courier this week, the paper in which the Hendricks Turpen interview was published, says: "Admitting, for the sake of argument, that Mr. Tilden and Mr. Headricks are feeble, which is a lie, and that the public curiosity during the campaign would demand daily health bulletius, the renomination would prove the most vitalizing principle that could be brought to American politics. The election of no other Democrat except Tilden, not even Mr. Heudricks himself, would wipe out the fraud of 1878, and until that is done. American history will never be symmetrical. The friends of Mr. Tilden at the Cincinnati convention were not politielans, and there is no evidence extant that an Indiana senator or congressman worked to secure the nomination of Mr. Hendricks. The strength was with the people. Capt. Myers, then a congressman, now secretary of state, said to Gen, Russ while the convention was on, Joo-McDonald can receive the nomination forprosident.' 'Perhaps he can,' answered Russ. but the people don't want Joe McDonald; and, sir,' he continued, with the spirit of prophecy full upon him, 'if you ever expect propnecy run upon mm, it you over expect-anything in Indiana you must not disclose your disloyalty to Hendricks. The idea of any rival candidate's devotion to the political interests of Indiana's favorite is absurd. However full of greed be might have been, though he might have eclipsed Garfield at Chicago, he could awaken no possible encouragement from the delegation of this state. The fact is impossible to conceal that Mr. McDonald was esteemed as inconsequential by the Indiana delegation, as he was by the Indiana general assembly, which gave Isaac P. Gray the nomination for United States senator."

THE TRACK OF THE STORM.

A Look Over the Storm-Swept Section of Missourl.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 17.—A press corres pondent has just returned from a tour through the counties of Atchison, Nodaway and Holt, lying north and east of Buchanan and the counties through which Friday's wind storm passed. Farm houses are haid low in the direct route, and in some instance for miles not a hoose is seen but that is more or less injured, and some are entirely swopt away. Churches, stables, sheds, and outhouses are crushed, and the lumber carried away. Trees are broken and crushed by the thousands, and in many instances great groves of forest trees were laid flat. Ponds where water stood have been emptied and dried. In many places whole fields of corn are destroyed—cut down as smooth as with a scythe. Wheat standing in shock in the field was scattered to the four winds. The whole section is a scene of de-struction and wretchedness. Hundreds struction and wretchedness, Handreds of poor families are rendered homeless, and their provisions and crops swept away. Cattle and horses by the score were killed, The people are actually in need. The town of Burlington Junction is a wreck. The storm carried everything be-tore it, and thousands of dollars were swept away. The crop outlook in these countles is good. The corn away from the storm route good. The corn away from the storm-voice looks splendid, and is growing very rapidly. The crop, both as to acreage and yield, will equal any previous year. Wheat, oats, barlley and rye look promising. The crop average for the time counties will be equal to previous years, notwithstanding the storms. The actual loss in these three counties by the storm will never be known. The river at this place is falling slowly.

His mustache and chin whiskers are of a reddish tint, and are thin and worn short. There is no particular expression to his face, though he has an intelligent look. He declined to be interviewed, saying, "I am wearied to death with traveling, and since my arrival here I have not had time to collect my thoughts. I don't wish to say any thing to the newspapers. I guess the whole story has been told in every newspaper in the world already."

A Woman's Experience.

MRS. WILLIAM DOWNES, of Uxbridge, Mass.

writes on March 15, 1888, as follows: "During the past three years I have been a great sufferer from a complication of diseases which baffled the skill of the most experienced doctors, as I could not obtain permanent relief by their treatment and prescriptions; and I have also tried many so-called cares in the medicine line, but could get no relief. The spains, aches, and weakness increased so rapidly and constantly that I was so reduced in strength as to be unable to leave the bed, and the doctors informed me that there was no hope of a recovery. In this exhausted and discouraged condition a dear friend persuaded me to use Hunt's Remedy, and after taking it only three days I commenced to get better, and to my great joy and delight Ihave continued to improve constantly by its use, until now, after having taken the remedy only a few weeks, I am able to be about my house again, and am new doing my house work My lame back is cured, the severe pains have disuppeared, and I am now in better health than for many years, and beg this privilege of gladly recommending Hunt's Remedy to all who are afflicted with any disease of the kidneys or liver; and I also highly recommend it for the attacks of sick headache. My husband also has experienced a very great benefit to his health by the use of this mos: valuable medicine, Hunt's Remedy."

"Our Flag is Still There." MR. S. B. Longfellow, Augusta, Mc., cast side river, writes us under date of April 15, 1883; "To whom it may concern: This may certify that two years ago I was very badly afflicted with kidney and urinary difficulties, which extended through the system and laid me up for weeks, so that I could do no work. I had the most skilful physician in town, who gave me no assistance. Hearing of Hunt's Remedy, I got a bottle, and half of it cared me entirely, so that I have been well ever since. The other half I I have been well ever since. The other hand I gave to a neighbor who was afflicted much as I the distant boatmen. The negro hands was and it restored him to health. I can truly wake stupidly from slumber and, rubing was, and it restored him to health. I can truly say Hunt's Remedy has been of great and in-expressive worth to me."

Why Be Downcast.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

---Expenditure for military affairs in Germany is constantly increasing.

-The bank account of John Brown Queen Victoria's favorite servant, recently deceased, is said to reach nearly $5,000,000.

—At a recent sale in Leipzig, George Washington's autograph brought $28.75, Peter the Great's $27.75, Mary, Queen of Scots, $80.75; and Marie Antoinette's $115.93

-It is announced that Warsaw is to be made one of the most strongly fortified places in Europe by the construction of fourteen new ferts, on which work is to be begun at once. -The last report on Kew Gardens, near London, contains an account of the cow tree of Venezuela. From the trunk, when cut, exudes a somewhat glutinous liquid, whose flavor is of cream, with a slightly balsamic taste.

Seeds planted in India are thriving. -The Frankfurter Zeitung made arrangements for special collections of funds for the sufferers from the recent floods in Germany. The recapitulation published shows that 186,931 marks was received. Of this sum Germany. supplied 67,000 marks, America 48,000, and England 10,000.

-Some of the best English jockeys are women; daughters of farmers or of country squires who have lost their fortunes. They have been accustomed to ride to hounds from their childhood, are perfectly fearless, and their light weight in the saddle makes them desirable as jockeys. Charles Kingsley's poem of "Loraine Loree" has one of these women jockeys for his heroine.

-Lady Strafford, who was a shining light in the higher ranks of English aristocracy one hundred years ago, wrote of the death struggle of her favorito dog, "poor charming Fubs," as fol-lows: "As it leved soe it died, full of lov leaning its head on my bosom, never offered to snap at anybody in its horrid tortur but nussle its head to us and loock carnestly upon me and Suc, whoe cryed for thre days as if it had been for a chile or husband."

-A curious exhibition has lately been on view in the north of London. It consisted of nothing but an array of cigar ends collected during seven years' peregrinations up and down the metropolitan thoroughfares. The enterpris-ing collector reckons that in this time he has traveled nearly 12,000 miles on foot, and he has picked up 600,000 pieces of eigar, averaging an inch and a half each. He is said to have valued his stock, thus literally composed of odds and ends, at £1,800.

-One of the most important crops of South Africa is that of the black caterpillar. The negroes leave their villages in large companies to go into the wilderness to gather this manna. It is preserved for use by pressing out the intestines, drying the remains before a fire and rolling in wilted leaves. White ants and fat crickets are delice. White ants and fat crickets are delicacies which the common people scarcely ever eat, as it is regarded as the specia food of kings and potentates. Progs, lizzards and snakes are not considered fit to eat by these people.

How Shad Are Caught.

Drawing near to the Gloucester fishing station an hour before high water there is little to betoken the coming scenes of activity and excitement which attend the drawing of the net. The muddy Delaware dashes persistently in the wind against the reach of yellow sand half a mile long that fringes the dull bank. A few ragged loafers or a bevy of boy truants wander about list-lessly or dangle their legs from heaps of brown timber. Two or three wood-en windlasses with spaces for men and a horse, are set several hundred feet apart from each other, but rough, weather-beaten and out of plumb, one scarcely can tell at first whether they are mementoes of old fisheries or are in present use. A little way further down the shore there are more animated signs of coming events. A meditative horse hitched between the poles of a windlass hitched between the poles of a windlass awaits with drooping ears and sleepy eyes the call to labor. There is a stout band of twenty dusky Africans sleeping on a grassy bank, each with a coil of net-work over his shoulder. A nervous old salt, dry as a cask, a little clock in his hand, is seen constantly entering and overwing from a rough heard but and emerging from a rough board hut. Within the hut is a little wheel, and a cord doubled around the axle with a float at one end and a weight at the other, records the lifting tide. But not satisfied with this device the bronzed old fisherman watches anxiously a set of pegs which he has set along the marge of one of the still inner pools connecting with the river. The function of this old fellow is an important one, for in hauling a net half a mile long every freak of the tide must be watched, or the two hours' labor of half a hundred men will go for nothing.

A stout rope, perhaps three-quarters of an inch in diameter, circles around a great wheel at the bottom of the windless and trends out into the river. Following with the eye the direction of this rope, vision lights on a strange craft half a mile out in the stream. Manned by eighteen oarsmen, each grasping a big sweep, pointed at the bow and with blunt, high pooped stern, it looks to rull the world like an old Roman trireme. Alheap at the stern rises to the proportions of a respectable railroad embankment. This heap is the net, one of whose ends is joined to the rope mentioned heretofore. A net of such mag-nitude is a curiosity by itself. It is a seine almost half a mile long, or, in round numbers, twenty-five hundred feet. Its width varies from ten feet at the extremities to tifty in the centre. Its meshes are about two inches square. and in weaving the whole about 115 miles of strong cord are required. The cost of one of these big seines is some $3,000, and its usefulness ends by rot and breakage in three years. The net is buoyed by floats as large as a man's head, but no leads are used, as the weight of the under-run rope suffices for sinking. In the course of a season the breakage of the meshes by snags on the river bottom, and by ordinary wear and tear, is very serious. But the chief marplot of the fisherman is the stur-One of these armored fishes, with his sharp adamantine nose, passes through a seine like an arrow through air, and he leaves, every time he passes, a jagged rent half-a-dozen feet

But now the tide has reached its flood. The old watcher on shore seizes a dirty white flag and waves it frantically to their eyes, take their places at the poles of the windlass. The sleepy horse, too, is roused to animation by a lusty thump on the vertebral column, and under a stress of man and horse-power the great wheel begins to revolve and the long rope to tighten. The distant tri-reme also has been roused into life, the anchor weighed, and eighteen pair of biceps are pulling the craft up-stream,

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE

Late Lecturer and Professor in one of the leading medical colleges in the United States, editor of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal, consulting physician and operative surgeon in the New York Hospital for Chronic Diseases. Physician in Ohief of the Medical and Surgical Institute of Cedar Rapids.

ON ACCOUNT OF HIS

Immense Practice

Janesville, Wis., WILL MAKE HIS NEXT VISIT

MYERS HOUSE,

Wednesday, August 29th.

And Remain Two Days

When he can be consulted on Deformities. Spinal and Chronic Diseases.

Dr. Fishblatt

Has discovered the greatest cure in the world for weakness of the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, knymor, confusion of ideas, paleness of sight or gradiness, diseases of the throat, nose or skin, affections of the liver, lungs stomach, or bowels,—those terrible disorders arising from solitary practice more fatal to their victims than the songs of the sirens to the Mariners of Ulysees, blighting their most radiant hopes or articipations, rendering marriage impossible.

YOUNG MEN.

Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit - hich annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talout and brilliant intellect, who might, if otherwise, entrance listening senates with the thunder of their cloquence, or wake to cestacy the living lyre, may call with full confidence.

Marriage.

Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness (loss of procreation power, impotency) nervous debility or any other disqualifications speedily relieved. He who places himself under the care of Dr. Fishblatt may religiously confide in his honor as a gentleman, and, confidently rely upon his skill as a physician.

Organic WEAKINESS

Immediately cured and fall vigor restored. This affliction—which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by the victim of improper indulgence. Young persons are not to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands this subject will deep that procention is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than hy those falling into improper habits than hy predent? Besides being deprived of the pleasures of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both mind and body arise. The system becomes deraped, the physical and mental functions weakened, loss of procreative power, nervous irritability, despessa, palpitation of the heart, indigestion, constitutional debility, wasting of the frame, cough, consumption and death immediately cured and full vigor restored.

A Cure Warranted.

Persons rained in health by unlearned pre-tenders who keep them triffing month after month, taking poisonous and injurious com-pounds, should apply immediately.

Dr. Fishblatt

Graduated at one of the most eminent Colleges of the United States, has offected some of the most astoniabing cures that were over known; many troubled with ringing in the head and cars when asleep Egreat nervousness, being alarmed at certain sounds, with frequent blushing attended somewhat with decangement; of the mind, were cured immediately.

Particular Notice.

"Dr. F. addresses all those who have injured themsolves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruins both mind and body unfitting them for business, study, society, narringe. These are some of the sad, molancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth namely: Weakness in the buck and limbs, pain in the head, dinness of sight, loss of musical power, palpitation of the heart, dyspepsia, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, dubility consumption, etc.

Tobacco Review.

The market here is extremely quiet. There is nothing doing to speak of in the '82 crop and for the first time in nine months about the warehouses are the quietest place in town. The movement of tobacco from the warehouses is, as might be expected during the sweating season, light. Still there are some shipments being made all the time.

Frequent rains during the week has given the growers a grand opportunity to complete their setting, which has been very generally improved. The bulk of the new crop is now in the field and 18 looking quite well. The cultivator has now been placed in the tobacco field and it should not be sparingly used by any means. Every effort should be used to keep the plants growing from this date until maturity, and this work cannot be slighted if the best results are obtained. Work the tobacco ground often, and the cheapest method is the horse-hoe .-- Wisconsin Tobacco Reporter.

Death of James O'Hara.

Mr. James O'Hara died at the home of his parents, on Hickory street, in the second ward, last evening at quarter to nine o'clock. At noon, yesterday, after waking from a sleep, he seemed to be considerably easier, and almost free from pain, but later in the day he again became restless, suffering great pain from the effects of the wound, and shortly after six o'clock he began to grow weaker, and finally death came to his relief at the above time.

The deceased was a native of this city, was in the thirty-first year of his age, and had always made his home here with his parents. He was unmarried.

The funeral will take place at St. Mary's church at ten lo'clock to-morrow forencon.

Found Dead.

A few minutes before twelve o'clock to-day, Mr. Haldor K. Lee was found dead in his room, at the residence of Mr. Alex. Shaffer, on North Jackson street,

The deceased is a painter and went to work this morning in his usual health. About ten o'clock he returned to his boarding house, and complained of not feeling very well, and went up stairs to his room. Mr. Shaffer's family thought nothing more of him until nearly twelve o'clock, when Mrs. Shaffer went up stairs to see if he had left the house again. Upon entering his room she discovered him lying on his back on the bed, his feet on the floor. He was dead and cold.

Heart disease was the cause of his death. The deceased was about 40 years of age; had lived in the city a number of years, and was a hard working, indus_ trious man-one who made many friends and no enemies. His wife died some four or five years ago, but he leaves one step-daughter, Mrs. Anson D. Pope, of the town of Janesville, and two stepsons, Albert and Charles Burgh, who live in Minnesota.

The arrangements for the funeral are not yet made.

Move on When Told To. The trial of Wm. Rexroat, the colored man arrested by special policeman Wm. English last Sunday, for loitering on the streets, took place before Justice Goodall this afternoon, and has created a good deal of comment. J. C. Rood, Esq., appeared for the prosecution, and W. D. Kellogg, Esq., for the defense. The case was based upon a technicality of the law. and it was upon this that Mr. Rexroat was fined. The prosecution testified that the defendant was standing on the sidewalk and did not move along when notified to do so by the officer. The defendant claimed to have been upon the street but a few moments, and was then awaiting for his supporto be ready at a restau. Is it a Profitable Business for Stock rant near by. The manufacturing interests suffer most severely. The heaviest losers being the Northwestern manufacturing company and Messrs. The buildings were occupied by laborers, but strange to relate none of them were seriously injured including dwellings and barns in the track of the storm. The handsome residence and grounds of Senator L. B. Caswell were badly demoralized; the house of J. Hollobush occupied by his family, was taken from its foundation and literally blown to fragments. DOSING STOCK.

Rainers?

Frequent cases have come to our notice within a year or two of some unprincipled parties, who have stock for sale to the butchers and stock buyers of this city, dosing their animals just previous to driving them to market. Oftentimes, by this "dosing" process the stock raiser gains somewhat in live weight, and oftentimes, when the buyer "gets onto" the deal, in time, the stock raiser is "some out of pocket." That our readers may understand the mode of "dosing" stock, we will state, stock are to be taken to the market they are salted, all they will eat, and are fed plenty, with no water. When near the market they are allowed to fill up with water-cattle will thus increase their live weight from 100 to 125 pounds, and hogs in proportion, and unless the buyer keeps a sharp look out for this "dosing" of stock, he is swindled to that extent. The trouble does not end here. At times, when cattle and hogs have been over saitwith water, thereby entailing a total loss to whoever happens to the in possession.

Buyers frequently put in their contracts that stock must not be allowed water for a certain number of hours previous to being weighed or delivered. Within a few days past, a case was brought to our notice; one of our prominent dealers

ery. The cattle were driven to the city; but before reaching the yards, they were pond of water; the day was hot, and sev-the scales until the next day. The salt that the cattle had eaten, with the over dose of water, had had the desired effect by this time in favor of the were that much the other side. Other

A few weeks ago the Gazette published a little personal item from a Montana paper in relation to Miss Jennie Corson, stating that "she was one of the first four ladies who commenced setting type in the Gazette office." The Bocky Mountain Husbandman, published at White Sulphur Springs, Montana, under date of July 5th, comes to us, containing our personal item under the above caption, and then proceeds to give further particulars of her ranch. We republish the entire item, for the purpose of showing what a woman can do, if she only will:

The Janesville, Wisconsin, Gazette has the following to say about Miss Jennie Corson, Montana's sheep queen: "This lady, who formerly lived in Janesville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Corson, well known by all the old inhabitants, entered the Gazette composing room in 1864, and in a short time she became a good and correct compositor. She was one of the first four ladies who commenced setting type in this office. The other three—Miss Josephine Whittier (now Mrs. O F. Bowles,) Miss Mary Eilis (now Mrs. A. A. Dresser,) and Miss Alwildie Thompson, now of Chicago, were her companions in this office. Miss Corpon, after working a couple of years in this office, went to Chicago, where she obtained a situation in a printing office.
After this, we learn she went to Bloomington. Ill., for a time. She was very industrious, and saved her money. We lost sight of her in Bloomington, and supposed that she had married, settled down to house-keeping and forgotten her early associates. But we are gratified to hear associates. But we have a constraint of the from her again. Mr. Duane Armstrong, who is publishing a paper at Missoula, Montana, furnishes the following item, which will be read with a good deal of pleasure by the friends of the Corson pleasure by the friends of the Corson was a constitute to the corson when the corporation of the corson was a second to the corson was a second to the corson when the corporation was a second to the corporation of the corporation was a second to the corporation of the corporation was a second to the corporation of the corporat family in this city, especially those who were acquainted with little Jennie. Wo sincerely wish her continued prosperity, as she is the "boss girl," and no mistake:

as sue is the "boss girl," and no mistake:

"Miss Jennie Corson, known as the "Montana Stepherdess," went to Montana about a year ago and bought a band of sheep and ranch near Oka, in Meagher county, paying therefor $10,000 cash.
Sha has managed ber business antivals She has managed her business entirely herself, and now has as good a sheep ranch as there is in Montana. Her sheep and ranches are said to be worth $27,600 more than they were a year ago."

Could the editor of the Janesville, Wis.

Gazette, but see Miss Corson's magnificent domain, he could not help feeling proud of his fair apprentice. Her ranch is situated in the most beautiful portion of the Musselshel valley, the leading stock growing region of Montana. A mountain range sweeps majestically along the north side of the Musselshell valley on a due east and west course from Copperopolis to the Judith Gap, its forest-lined crescent forming a blue wall against the northern sky, From these heights put down a number of clear, cool streams. Among these is Hopley's, of the Musselshell, the home of the shepherdess. This stream meanders from among the blue pine hills, through dells and parks, and at length stretches away across the beautiful sloping plattend, to the Musselshell river, some fifteen miles distant. The stream drops well below the level of the bench lands, forming nice meadows and excellent bottoms for agricultural purposes, and innumerable nooks and della, that are sheltered by the highlands from the winter blast. This stream Miss Corson can virtually call her own, as she controlls it from its source to within a few miles of its mouth, including several hundred square miles of grazing lands that stretch out five or six miles on either side of the stream from the mountains to the river. The ranch is well improved with sheds, corals, dwelling, and other necessary improvements of a first class sheep ranch. She also owns a hotel and stage station, on the road near her ranch, purchased for the purpose of having exclusive control of the range. She owns the water rights of the creek, and meadows and arable lands, and is quoen of the hills, valleys, and plains there-about. Her fieck of sheep, which num-ber between three and five thousand, is in excellent condition, and, although she has been in the business less than a year, exhibits excellent judgment in her management of the ranch, and is making wool growing a complete success. Miss Corson, who is a lady of culture and refinement, arrived at the Springs less than a year ago, and remained a couple of months, it was supposed for her health, until after her purchase of sheep. And though it was noticed during a visit to this office with a number of ladies, that that generally the day before the she could read the galleys of type as a compositor, none ever suspected that she began her eventful career in a printing office, or that such success was attainable with the art preservative, as a stepping stone. Milton. -Milton and Evansville met on the diamond field Friday afternoon and it was the finest game of ball that Milton people have seen on our grounds. The Evansville club went to bat and made three runs before going out. Milton pounded the sphere for three in their ed, they often die soon after filling up inning, and then there was a cessation in run getting until the seventh inning when Milton got another run. In the eighth Evensville got two tallies and Milton two, making them the winners of the game by a score of 6 to 5. Milton was obliged to play a substitute and were not in regular practice which together with the fact that they did not bunch their hits, prevented them from making a larger score. The Evansville club play a fine game but were unable to bat Allen purchased a drove of thirteen head of fat except in two innings.
